There is a difference between home health care and home care.

- Home health care provides skilled, short-term medical care including a visit from a nurse, physical therapy, occupational therapy, etc. which has been ordered by a doctor to treat a medical condition. These services are covered by Medicare.
- Home care offers long-term, non-medical assistance with daily tasks such as bathing, cleaning, and companionship. These services are not covered by Medicare.

View the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services official government booklet on Medicare and Home Health Care for information on eligibility, the services covered, how to find and compare home health agencies, and your Medicare rights.

Go online to Medicare.gov to find and compare home health agencies.

Community Attendant Services

The Texas Health and Human Services Community Attendant Services program, or CAS, is a non-technical, medically related personal care service that is available to eligible individuals whose health problems cause them to have limitations in performing activities of daily living according to a practitioner's statement of medical need.

Services may include light housekeeping, meal preparation, and assistance with personal care tasks.

Contact HHS to complete a phone application. If calling for someone other than yourself, have that individual present during the call to give verbal permission to do the application on their behalf. The intake staff will provide information regarding the process after the phone application is submitted.
